

Wyoming

44th state to join the Union
on July 10, 1890.

Fun Facts:

Wyoming is the least populated state with 578,000 people.

It was given its nickname, the Equality State, because it was the first state to give women the right to vote.

In the 1880's, Cheyenne was one of the wealthiest cities in the world due to its cattle industry and the Gold Rush.
